

LET'S FIND CLARITY!

Hello and welcome to September in the membership. There are a lot of really cool things planned for you this month, and I must say, I'm particularly excited about what I am sharing today in our simplify week. I don't know about you, but what the heck? 2018, where have you gone? I find that at this time of year, I can get a little bit like, "Oh, I thought I was going to be blah, blah, blah, blah," and here's the thing: Still got plenty of time. We've still got stacks of time. We still got four whole months until New Year's Eve, so what I thought we could do is get clear on exactly who we want to be and what we want to have happen so we can tick 2018 off as a really great year, but that's not going to happen when there's a million different things that we're trying to do.

I know you've got competing priorities, so I've created for you a little clarity creator exercise. You can go ahead and download this document and fill it in, in your own time, and I would like to know the results. I would like to know how clear you are and how simple the rest of the year will be to get you to exactly where you want to be. If we don't spend time thinking about this, it'll be New Year's Eve and we'll have gone, what? Sometimes when I get worried about time running out, I kind of think, oh, that time is kind of irrelevant because all I've got is right now, and so do you. Right now, that's all that's guaranteed. So, how about you download this and make it a priority to fill in over the next week.

Jump into the Facebook group, share what's come up for you, share if it's helped you get clear, and remember that it's not about doing all the things.

Take the small steps, small consistent daily actions, and you will get there faster. I absolutely promise you, so don't overwhelm yourself. There's a big brainstorming section so let yourself go wild there, but then drill it down. We can't do everything all at once. It's a recipe for disaster. I know you know that, so let me know how you go and let's get clear and simplify the goals that we have until the end of the year. Let's make this an awesome finish to 2018. See you soon.
